Web RTC

Real-time communication for the web

The idea

➡ Full-duplex communication between clients (browsers)

• P2P communications, perfect for sending text, video, audio without going through the server ...

• ... except for initialization and signalling that go through the server (usually using Web Sockets)